Message from the Manse

Dear Friends,

A Happy New Year to you all! Are you looking forward to it? The unknown has always been a lot more daunting than the known. Happiness is usually sought in things that are known and expected. Yet, the unknown has a lure and attraction which makes life interesting. 1971 has a lot of the known and unknown about it.

Take decimalisation for example: The 15th of February will see the biggest upheaval in our monetary system, that we have experienced in our lifetime. This newsletter is no place to go into the whys and wherefores. Decimalisation will take place. We have to adapt our social habits and our purse-strings, both as individuals and as organisations. The known happily tells what coins should be in our pockets, what mathematical calculations we need to make, and what needs to be 'converted'. The unknown brings fears of big price increases, exploitation, and whether great grandma will be able to cope. Ministers have expressed fears about church collections. I trust and hope that our people will behave responsibly in this.

Locally, 1971 will bring social change in a big way. In Spring (June in this part of the world!) the M62 should be open as far as Huddersfield. It's been a hard grind for people who have lived through all the construction. The known tells us certain facts: there will be less traffic on existing roads to Yorkshire: Milnrow will be a 'quieter' village because of the by-pass; there is an expectation of the usual crop of motorway hazards and accidents. The unknown raises questions: what toll will a Pennine winter have? What are the social implications to a place like Milnrow, already divided into three sections by its new road system? How will Littleborough be affected by the Motorway - especially Hollingworth Lake?

Finally, 1971 will be a most important year for our denomination. By mid-December 1971, both our churches will have made a decision for or against going in to the new United Reformed Church (Congregational/Presbyterian). Already, the hard work has been done, concerning this union. The implications of such a union have still to be worked out for the ordinary church member. it is very important that we spend time to become informed about the facts. 1971 will give us plenty of time to see what this decision will mean for us and for the wider church.

Jesus once told us not to worry too much about tomorrow. He didn't tell us to be irresponsible. the future was in the realm of faith, the past was in the realm of knowledge. All I ask, is that we go forward into 1971 with greater faith and hope than we have ever had: not just faith in the future, but faith in Jesus Christ as our only true Guide and Saviour. He counts on our enthusiasm and our co-operation. Our only resolution must be not to let him down.

Yours sincerely,

Glyn Jenkins

We also express our sympathy to the families and relatives of the late Mrs. Thompson of Sheriff St., and Mr. Buck of 2 Victoria Terrace.

A STORY WHICH NEEDS NO COMMENT

Beverley White, who about 11, and her brother Mark, who is about 9, live at 60 Royds Street, Milnrow. This Christmas they received a gift of money from a relative in Canada but for reasons best known to themselves they decided to use the money to someone elses advantage. They looked out the oldest lady they could find, 95 year old Mrs. Jane Steele of 81 Royds Street and presented her with a food hamper.

.....Father Christmas told us about this.

HELP FOR MARIE ELAINE

Readers of the other major local newspaper - "The R...d... O.....r," may have read that the Revd. Glyn Jenkins has been trying to Help Marie Elaine Rand of Fire Station Houses, Rochdale. Marie Elaine is a spastic little girl whose main hope of a better life depends on a course of treatment called "Intensive Exercise" which is available at the Institute of Potential Human Development, Philadelphia, U.S.A.

Needless to say this treatment costs money. Over £200 has to be found by January 16th and a further £200 by 27th February when the treatment is due to start. Attempts to raise the money are being made from a number of cources. Over £6 was raised in the collection at St. Stephen's on Christmas Eve and an anonymous donation of £50 has just been received.

Those of you whose philanthropy is combined with a liking for good food will be most delighted to know that Mrs. Gwen Whittaker of 27 Harbour Lane is selling her home-made marmalade and toffee for the fund. Those who give to this worthwile cause and sample Gwen's wares will be twise blessed.

EAST PAKISTAN CYCLONE APPEAL RESULT

When we last went to press the appeal was just underway and by now many will know the result. For those who do not know we raised £59 and 50 blankets.

In addition blankets were knitted by the children of Moorhouse School and by the ladies of Oaklands Home.

All those who helped with this appeal are to be congratulated, particulary as everything had to be done at such short notice.

PILOTS - PLAY OF THE MONTH

A new slant was put on the Christmas story in a play written by Mr. Bill Griffiths and performed by the Pilots on Sunday morning December 27th. The scene was set in Littleborough in 1970, and told the story of a young couple, Joseph and Mary who were expecting God's Son to be born. Mary couldn't keep the news to herself and went off to tell Elizabeth, her elder sister. There was a 'brew' waiting for her and the two women chatted about the new child. Then Joseph came to take Mary home. They waved farewell to 'Liz'. Near the time when the baby was due, Joseph came home with the news that he had to go down south to see about promotion to a new job. Mary wasn't going to stay in on her own, so she went with him. They arrived at their destination only to find the company's car had not arrived, and no accomodation booked. The first place they tried brought no joy, but they were directed to the Rose and Crown pub. The landlord eventually found room for them in a children's playhouse in the garden, and even gave them a paraffin heater to keep them warm.

The scene changes to a nearby works where two men are coming off night-shift. They are directed by a messenger of God to the Rose and Crown, where they find the baby with his parents. They can't believe that it is the Son of God, but do all they can to help. They stay with Mary while Joseph goes off to get one or two things for the baby, and they don't leave without giving the child some money from their wage packets. The Nativity Play ended with the children singing one verse of "Away in a Manger"

JELLY, CINDERS and RICE

A party was held for the members of the creche on Saturday 5th December in the schoolroom. In addition it was a birthday party for Stephanie Hill who was two. The party went with a swing but everyone went home sober, (with jelly all down their fronts). Our thanks to all who helped with the refreshments.

A Chrsitmas treat is underway for the rest of the members of the Junior Church: a trip to see Cinderella at the Oldham Colliseum. The coach is booked for New Years Day. By the time of publication this event will have taken place.

*

We are sorry to receive the resignation of Miss Ann Simpson from the Junior Church Staff. Ann is getting married on Saturday February 27th. Our good wishes go to Ann and her fiance.

****

DID YOU KNOW?

1. The Pilots and Juniors collected over £4 for the East Pakistan Cyclone Appeal.
2. In the first half of the year £20. 17. 0 was raised in C.C.W.M. boxes. Which reminds us to remind you that these boxes should be handed in for emptying before D-Day.

ARE WE RECEIVING YOU?

No we are Not! We know that it is not particularly a churches job to make news and hit headlines but we are sure there must be a lot of activities going on which we do not report in "The Messenger." At the start of this new year we want to make it quite clear that we are looking for news items from your particular corner of church life and we would welcome your contributions no matter how sketchily compiled they might be. Make it your magazine.

THINK ABOUT IT

Dear Editor,

Having read your apology for not solving the problem of the 12 ball-bearings one might be excused for thinking that this is typical of what happens when economists and politicians are faced with a problem requiring logical thinking. To alleviate your embarrasment I would like to offer this solution but I must point that this depends on my knowing whether the odd-ball is lighter or heavier than the rest.

Solution: Divide the ball-bearings into 3 groups of four.

1. Weigh two groups against one another. If they balance odd-ball must be in the third group. If they don't, we know which of the two groups contains odd-ball.
2. Take the group of 4 containing odd-ball. Weigh two of the four against one another. If they don't balance we know which is odd-ball.
3. If they do balance weigh the two other balls from that group of 4.

Please excuse the writing as I am standing on my head in a corner.

Yours sincerely,

Pythagoras.

The Editor Says Thank you to Pythagoras who is obviously an expert on methods of reducing friction. His dig at politicians and economists, however, is in bad taste; it is typical of the general public to set the politicians and oconomists impossible tasks and then complain when they fail to solve them.

****

LAST MONTH'S SOLUTION

U = 0, T = 1, A = 2, K = 3, R = 4, Y = 5, X = 6, E = 7, S = 8, M = 9.

THINK ABOUT IT (continued)

A farmer sent his three sons to market to sell oranges. To Tom he gave 10 oranges, to Dick he gave 30 and to Euripides he gave 50. (After all who wants his sons to be thought of as any old set of Tom, Dick and Harry).

As they were about to leave their faither said, "I want you to sell up, all charge the same price and bring all your takings home. If you all bring home the same amount of money I will reward you handsomely. Fail, and I will cut you all off without a penny.

This was not an impossible task and the sons duly won their reward. How?

Clue: In deference to Pythagoras, this puzzle ignores the laws of economics but not the laws of logic.
